Ocean County Library to Participate in Library Card Sign Up Month

TOMS RIVER – The Ocean County Library will participate in National Library Card Sign-up Month this September.

The library is excited to share its products and services with the community and invite everyone to sign up for an Ocean County Library Card so they may access a world of knowledge-tools and services.

Library Card Sign-up Month serves as a nationwide reminder that a library card is the key to limitless opportunities. The Ocean County Library offers a diverse range of products and services to reach these possibilities. The Ocean County Library's selection of products and sevices expands constantly, adding digital and physical materials.

Sign up for a library card by stopping in any location or visit the website http://theoceancountylibrary.org/Services/Library%20Card for an application.

The Ocean County Library is the largest library system in New Jersey with 21 locations offering over 1.3 million books, magazines, music, DVDs, CDs and video games. Online resources including eBooks, courses, tutorials, magazines, eAudioBooks, research tools and dozens of databases are all available on the library's website.

Ocean County Library card holders gain access to educational software, entertainment, digital streaming service hoopla, and informational databases such as Rosetta Stone, Lynda.com, New Jersey Property Records, among others.

A user can also download the Library's My OCL mobile app, which offers card holders the ability to search the library catalog and conveniently renew materials 24-7. Best of all, it's free.

The Library also provides over 11,500 free library programs and activities each year for children, young adults, adults and families. For a complete schedule, call the branch or go to the library website www.theoceancountylibrary.org/events.
